ACTING PRESIDENT'S REPORT – ROBERT COXON

Greeting to all for the New Year.

The Wing held a successful New Years Day Levee with a fine turnout to enjoy the band and partake of a great luncheon supplied by our much valued Ladies Auxiliary. It was noted that many who attended were those who faithfully show up for our Friday night dinners. My thanks to Bill Blakey for his barmanship and of course to Les Ball for having the hall set up and clean. Bill Jack's Moose Milk was enjoyed by all as has become the norm. Thanks Bill.

16 Wing is holding its New Years Levee on Sunday January 20th and a number of our Wing members plan to visit Borden and attend. Why not drop into the Museum for a visit while there?

The Charter Night and Awards Banquet is scheduled for Feb. 9th and it would be great to have to many of our members turn out in support of this event. See the notice further on in this issue.

You may note that a committee was struck to offer input towards the Wing operation as the few who volunteer are becoming less and less. If you have suggestions then check out our Wing web site and email either myself or other Executive Members as listed or pick up the phone and express yourself. Your input/help will be appreciated.

Cheers: Bob Coxon

New Year's Levee

The following Article is courtesy of the Canadian Association of Veterans in United Peacekeeping:

The CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE: IS CHANGE COMING?

A recent meeting called by Dominion Command of the Royal Canadian Legion brought into sharp focus the changing situation with regard to almost all veterans.

The Legion itself still numbers about 400,000 members but 60% of them are not veterans. Other organizations such as the Korean Veterans Association, the Gulf War Veterans Association, the Merchant Marine Association and any other grouping with a membership limited to "one of a kind", face rapidly declining numbers. Other groups such as the ANAVETS and the AFAC still have considerable strength but also face the difficulty of maintaining that strength and even trying to recruit new members.

In the peacekeeping field we have our own CAVUNP plus the existence of the CPVA. Both organizations began with a heavy emphasis on traditional peacekeeping operations but changes have occurred in both groups. Now, we in CAVUNP tend to look upon CPVA as a membership list that is "open to anyone". CPVA tends to view us as far too stringent and narrow in our membership criteria. The end result is two small organizations that raise the question of whether or not they should be one. Certainly those outside our two associations tend to pose the rather simple question, "Why two"? An historical answer does not draw much sympathy.

The declining memberships across the board raise other questions. Will the decline in numbers result in a decline in influence in the places that matter? If so, what do we do about it? Are we better to speak to those in authority with the six separate voices that have been represented in the last few years? Or would one stronger and united voice be better? These are very legitimate questions and the first flush easy answer — "No Change" may not serve us well in the long run.

At the meeting I referred to in the opening, the Legion was putting on the table an invitation to consider change. This was not the first initiative by the Legion but it was a far more open and considerate proposal than one rose a few years ago. You will hear more about this proposal but in essence, the least objectionable approach was a Royal Canadian Legion Federation of Veterans in which the current associations would retain much of their own identity while taking advantage of the large numbers and strong infrastructure already in place within the Legion.

Each and every member needs to think about possible changes and discuss them at length. Certainly the representatives attending AGM 2008 in Winnipeg will need to address the matter even if the objective is nothing more than to authorize our National President to seek more information from the Legion and other veterans' organizations.

In the Service of Peace.

Tree tribute to airmen

A RED Canadian maple tree has been planted in Rowney Green to honour five Canadian airmen who died there during the Second World War. A service was held and among those paying their requests were John Hoccom and Arthur Pearsall, from the Alvechurch Ex-Services Association, and Lt Col Gary Walker, from the Canadian High Commission in London. The airmen died when their Wellington Bomber crashed in a field at Lower Park Farm, Rowney Green, on November 9, 1943.

They were flying over the area when their aircraft developed engine trouble and crashed from about 800ft, killing everyone on board. John Hoccom, from the Alvechurch Ex-Services Association, said: "I really enjoyed the service. "The whole day was first class and the weather was perfect which was vital because there were quite a few older people there. "It was a very worthwhile event and I'm relieved everything went like clockwork and everybody said it was a success."

● John Hoccom and Arthur Pearsall, from the Alvechurch Ex-Services Association, and Lt Col Gary Walker, from the Canadian High Commission in London.

Ladies Auxiliary Report - Lois Ball

As I write this on behalf of President Isabel, I hope she is enjoying a well earned holiday in Hawaii with her daughter Sharon.

We assisted with hosting the Wing's New Years Levee. It was an enjoyable occasion with several members wishing each best wishes for 2008. It ended nicely with the Kempenfelt Pipes and drums performing for us.

We are hopping for another good turn out for our Wing Social on January 30th. Refreshments and sweets will be provided.

Plans are also under way for our 50th Anniversary Charter and Awards Banquet on February 9th.

The Central Region spring conference is being held at our Wing in March and we have been asked to cater the meet and greet and the noon luncheon.

The Ladies Auxiliary hold their monthly meeting at 7:00 pm prior to the Wing General Meeting. All ladies are welcome to come and join us.

Lois Ball, Vice President Ladies Auxiliary

Sick and Visiting - Terry Hamilton

Fruit baskets have been sent to Jo Winship and Annie Giorgianni. A donation was made to the RCAFA Trust Fund in memory of Past National President, Stewart Logan of Nova Scotia. Pat Mitchell redirected her fruit basket donation to the Building Fund(thanks Pat). The girls are doing very well, better every day. Our President Gord, is also improving slowly. It has been nice to see him out to the Wing in the last month.

The Best to all in 2008!!

Always, Terry

Scout Report – Jane Coxon

February is a special month for Scouts and Guides around the world. February 22 is the birthday of both Scouts Canada's founder, Lord Robert Baden-Powell, and his wife, Olave, the first World Chief Guide. Scouts and Guides celebrate this date each year as a remembrance of Scouting and Guiding heritage.

As part of their celebration, members of 1st Holly Scout Group will be in attendance at our General Meeting on February 13. Several members will be proudly carrying in our Colours as well as some speaking to the Wing members about Scouting. 1st Holly Group will also be receiving Air Force Association badges to sew on the point of their neckers to show that they are sponsored by 441 Wing. Come out and support our youth.

Scout/Guide week is celebrated annually from the Sunday before Thinking Day (February 22) to the Sunday after. Both Scouts Canada and Girl Guides of Canada enjoy celebratory events, in the spirit of camaraderie and friendship between the two organizations. Celebrations in Barrie will be held at both the Bayfield Mall and the Kozlov Centre. These events will be from Tuesday, February 19 to Friday, February 22 in the evenings and on Saturday, February 23 from 11 to 3 pm. Be sure to come out and see all the fun that the members of Scouts Canada and Girl Guides of Canada have. Also, please help "Fill A Canoe" with non-perishable food at either location. Everything collected will be donated to the Barrie Food Bank.

All three Scout Groups sponsored by the Wing have been hard at work earning badges, visiting interesting places like the fire stations, camping, and hiking.

The Venturers of 1st Holly Scout Group are planning a trip to Alberta to attend a horse camp. To help defray the individual costs, they are holding fund raisers. One event is at YukYuks on Saturday, April 19, 2008. The evening pans out in this way – at 7 pm a group of musicians from the Venturers will put on a concert; and at 9 pm the comedians will be on stage. Also for the evening there will be a terrific silent auction. Anyone wishing to go to YukYuks can contact Scouter Deb diCamillo at 722-5916 to order tickets. The cost for the tickets is $20.00 with $11.00 going to the Venturers for their trip.

The Beavers (5-7 years) of 8th Barrie Scout Group did a terrific thing before Christmas. They held a very successful toy drive and collected 3 laundry hampers full of toys, clothes and gift cards which were donated to Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Simcoe County. Way to go Beavers. One event that was a lot of fun and learning for everyone from senior Cubs to parents was the 2nd Annual Discover Scuba Diving Family Event on January 28 in Newmarket. What a terrific time everyone had.

What Can "I" Do to Support The Wing?????
I CAN'T COOK – CAN'T PAINT OR LIFT ANYTHING HEAVY.
BUT WAIT...I CAN DO SOMETHING REALLY IMPORTANT, I "CAN" INVITE A FRIEND TO BECOME A WING MEMBER!
NOW THAT WOULD BE A GREAT WAY TO SHOW MY SUPPORT.
It's Easy... I'll Use the Application Form in this Issue!

Veterans Organizations and Legion Discuss the Way Ahead

Representatives from 14 veterans organizations met with Legion officials at Legion House in Kanata, Ont., Nov. 16 to discuss developing a closer relationship.

Legion Honorary Grand President Charles Belzile, the chairman of the Dominion Command Veterans Unity Committee, chaired the meeting which was also attended by Dominion President Jack Frost, Dominion Secretary Duane Daly and Membership Committee Chairman Erl Kish. Also representing the Legion at the meeting were Defence Committee Chairman Lou Cuppens and member Buster Brown and Lewis MacKenzie, a member of the Veterans Unity Committee.

The Legion provided a full briefing on the Legion's organization and the range and strength of its various programs. The Legion was founded in 1926 when the Great War Veterans Association brought together many different veterans organizations that had formed after World War I. Today, its programs include seniors housing projects, the National Track and Field Championships for youth aged 13 to 17, the Legion Youth Leaders' Pilgrimage of Remembrance, support for the Encounters With Canada program, national literary and poster contests, the National Remembrance Day Ceremony and support for hundreds of cadet corps and boy scout and girl guide troops. Local charities receive about $11.1 million from Legion branches.

The Legion's military support programs include support for the Canadian Forces championships and show tours, Operation Santa Claus for troops serving abroad, the Nijmegen Marches, Fisher House in Europe and Legion House at Ste-Anne's Hospital for veterans and the RCL Troop Morale Fund which provides Tim Hortons gift certificates for Canadian Forces members stationed at Kandahar Airfield. Following the briefing, there was a full discussion on the future way ahead to sustain the strength and viability of the veterans community.

The Legion highlighted what it considered to be the future objectives and goals for the veterans community and suggested a possible way to sustain identity and achieve those goals would be through some form of federation with the Legion. Although there was no agreement to any specific future course of action, the delegates carried a motion to continue dialogue and to meet again in October 2008.

"The response from all was very positive," said Daly. "They complimented the Legion on taking the initiative to gather the various associations together to discuss the future and indicated their desire to review future options with their own members before the October meeting."

Besides the Legion, the meeting was attended by members of the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans in Canada, the Air Force Association of Canada, Canadian Veterans in UN Peacekeeping, Canadian Peacekeeping Veterans Association, the Royal Canadian Naval Association, Canadian Naval Air Group, Canadian Divers Association, NATO Veterans Association, Korea Veterans Association, Canadian Merchant Navy Veterans Association, Naval Officers Association, RCMP Veterans Association, National Aboriginal Veterans Association and Gulf War Veterans Association.

New Battle Honour for Fighter Squadrons

Recognition given for meritorious service in 1999
Kosovo air war

Quietly and without fanfare, Gov. Gen. Michaëlle Jean approved the award of the new battle honour
"Kosovo" for two CF-18
fighter squadrons last September. The honour, the first to Canadian Forces units since "Gulf and Kuwait" was awarded for the 1990-91 Gulf War, is for their role in the little-known 1999 air campaign over the Yugoslavian province of Kosovo.

LCol Alain Pelletier, then a major, led the first Canadian flight in the 1999 air campaign over Kosovo

The air campaign over Kosovo - known as Operation Allied Force - was part of NATO's attempt to end Yugoslavian president Slobodan Milosevic's brutal ethnic cleansing of Albanians in Kosovo. Under Milosevic's direction, an estimated 10,000 people were slaughtered, several thousand went missing and 850,000 fled their homes. Flying their CF-18 Hornets out of Aviano Air Base in Italy, 69 pilots - supported by 250 ground crew - of 425 Tactical Fighter Squadron from CFB Bagotville, Que., and 441 Tactical Fighter Squadron from CFB Cold Lake, Alta., completed 684 combat sorties. It was the most extensive combat air campaign undertaken by Canada's air force since the Second World War.

Comprising less than two per cent of nearly 1,000 NATO warplanes, Canadian pilots flew almost 10 per cent of all bombing missions. Canadians also took part in combat air patrols and close air-support missions, but bombing runs were considered the most dangerous. Remarkably, neither 425 nor 441 squadrons suffered any losses in the 78-day bombing campaign, conducted between March 24 and June 10, 1999. During the air war, Canadian fighter-bombers dropped nearly 225,000 kilograms of gravity and precision-guided bombs, an important part of the overall NATO effort that forced Milosevic to stop his vicious assault.

New Air Force Association of Canada Mission Statement

The Air Force Association of Canada is a national aerospace and community service organization established to: commemorate the noble achievements of the men and women who have served as members of Canada's air forces since its inception; advocate for a proficient and well-equipped air force; and, support the Royal Canadian Air Cadet program. (The Association's new mission statement which was passed unanimously at the 58th AGM - resolution 08/2007)

New Aims and Objectives of the Air Force Association of Canada

Advocacy - to advocate for a proficient, well-equipped air force in Canada

Traditions - to preserve and perpetuate the glorious traditions established in Canada's air forces since its inception.
