Hello from the Board Chair

Linda Brimson

Members who don't get out to the Wing often, or who don't speak with active members, may think nothing goes on at 427 (London) Wing RCAF Association.

To the contrary, there's lots of efforts by various members behind the scenes. We say goodbye to outgoing Treasurer Carolyn Ridley, and welcome new Treasurer and Board Member Rahwa Mengsteab Fessehaye. Thanks to Carolyn for a smooth handoff. We recently contracted the Wing accountant, Christina, to perform additional tasks as Rahwa learns the Treasurer procedures. Together, the Wing has accurate financial reporting and good compliance. We thank Carolyn for proposing the plan.

Rene McKinnon has led the vertical lift project and its now at installation stage. The lift cost was funded through a New Horizons for Seniors Project grant and gives full access throughout the entire Wing building. More photos next Link issue.

I recently attended a full-day zoom session on ONCA – Bringing your governing documents in line with Ontario's Not-for-Profit Corporations Act. It was arranged through Pillar Nonprofit Network here in London. The Wing is a Pillar member and has benefitted from workshops and postings for volunteers, etc. The ONCA session was led by a most interesting and personable facilitator; Benjamin Miller of Community Legal Education Ontario. Who knew bylaws could be fun? Compliance is requested by October 2024, so we have time. It's a good opportunity to aim not just for minimum ONCA compliance, but clarity and good governance in our bylaws.

Last month I attended my first London Museum Network meeting with executive and twenty local museums representatives. The executive members work closely with Heritage London. The Wing and all participating museums were invited to have a videographer make a short film clip and voiceover to present at the Heritage Conference in June which will be shared with Tourism London. A great promotion opportunity. It was great to hear what other museums are doing and challenges they face.

The Wing is booked to display hand out info at the Canada Day July 1st downtown event along Dundas Street, between Talbot and Wellington streets. It's a daytime event to raise the Wing profile that doesn't cost money. (in fact, I applied for a small grant to cover any incidental costs).

Doors Open London is September 16-17, 2023 – the weekend after London International Airshow. We need a few members willing to greet visitors and tell them about the Wing, and what a gem it is. Our aviation neighbours, the Secrets of Radar Museum and Jet Aircraft Museum are also participating. It's good to highlight we are part of an aviation hub that includes London International Airport, the International Test Pilot School, the Norton Wolf School of Aviation and Aerospace Technology (Fanshawe College). All these great facilities are situated along Crumlin Road. Meanwhile, Flo Douglas and her very able helpers (Fred, Kim, Shirley) work hard to provide variety with Friday lunches. Thanks to everyone who attends and helps. Please bring a friend or a member who may need a ride. The number of attendees can dip in the winter due to sickness and inclement weather.

Most weekdays, several Wing members (Flo, Rene, Howard, Don Clarke, Chuck Hardy, Frank Birch and others) pop in to ensure daily functioning of the Wing – paying bills, maintenance items, errands, follow-up from phone contacts, etc.) Thanks for all you do.

Other members serve on committees (Wellness, Air Cadets, Facebook page, Building,) advise the Board or help at events. We need everyone's efforts to carry on. There are a few vacancies that have been open for quite a while: Board Secretary; Memorial Stones liaison. Also looking for a new webmaster to update our webpage.

A sincere thank you to everyone, past and present, whose service has kept the Wing going.

There is a brief general meeting Friday March 24, 2023 after lunch. I promise to keep it short, but we need a couple membership decisions made.

The next zoom Board meeting is Monday March 27th at 6 p.m. You can phone me 519 659-0628 or email me any questions. Email: linda.brimson@yahoo.com

Russian War with Ukraine now one year old

The suffering continues for people in Ukraine and neighbouring countries; those fighting the invasion, those who fled the turmoil, those who have lost their lives, their families, friends and homes.

President Biden's visit to Ukraine was unprecedented and hopefully sent a message of solidarity.

Please continue to support Ukraine's humanitarian efforts and pray for peace.

The flag colours symbolize blue sky above the yellow field of wheat representing Ukraine and the Ukrainians as they are – freedom-loving, independent, brave, and vibrant. Ukrainian flag with its ancient history holds a significant place in the heart of the Ukrainian people and is a nation's talisman through all times.

National Flag Day

Submitted by Linda Brimson, with files from canada.ca

National Flag of Canada Day is observed every year on February 15. This day marks the inauguration of the present flag of Canada with the red maple leaf. The flag signifies the common values that unite all citizens of Canada — equality, diversity, and inclusion. On this day, you might see the Canadian flag waving in glory from building tops and people distributing miniature flags on the streets. Some people prefer wearing pins in the design of the flag to honor this occasion. In many schools, special lessons are delivered on the history of the flag and its significance. Veterans who had sworn allegiance to King and Country had a particular interest in retaining the flag they served under.

The history of Canada's red and white maple leaf flag is quite eventful. You might be surprised to know that it hasn't been around for all that long. Although Canada's quest for a national flag had begun in the late 19th century, the current version of the flag only emerged during the 1960s. Even after Confederation in 1867, Canada displayed the royal union flag of the United Kingdom as its own. By the 1870s, the Red Ensign — (top left) a combination of the Union Jack and the shield of Canada — began to be used unofficially as a national symbol. As the nation started growing, its people felt the need for distinct symbols to represent their nationality. In 1921, King George V granted Royal Arms to Canada, and this found its place on the Red Ensign. This new version was used as a patriotic emblem during World War II.

In the following years, several protests were carried out. Then, in 1960, Lester B. Pearson, the leader of the opposition, decided to put an end to the problem of the flag. This eventually led to the Great Flag Debate. Pearson proposed his plans for a new flag in the House of Commons. The debate lasted more than six months, bitterly dividing the people in the process. The debate over the proposed new Canadian flag was ended by closure on December 15, 1964. It resulted in the adoption of the "Maple Leaf" as the Canadian national flag. George Stanley was the person behind the design, with final touches by graphic artist Jacques Saint-Cyr, which features a stylized red maple leaf on a white surface flanked by red borders.

The new flag became official after Queen Elizabeth II proclaimed it on January 28, 1965. On February 15 that same year, it was hoisted on Parliament Hill at the stroke of noon. That's how the maple leaf flag came into being!

Ireland's Great War

When Britain declared war on Germany, many of Ireland's nationalists and unionists found a unified cause and joined up to fight. While soldiers were doing battle abroad, political turmoil at home continued to brew and the 1916 Easter Rising in Dublin was a pivotal point in history.

Vertical Lift Installation at Wing

After a year-long wait for manufacture and delivery, we happily report the new Vertical Lift has arrived! The Wing received a New Horizons for Senior Programs grant to enable its purchase. Members with wheelchairs or walkers can access both sides of the building now, where previously, stairs were a barrier.

Wing member Rene McKinnon, has spearheaded the project, never losing faith. Howard Johnston has ably assisted. The Wing wrote three grants in different years before having success. Perseverance counts!

The photo shows the steel fire door cut and installed into the west wall, between the Wing and the Secrets of Radar Museum. Installation, testing and training should be completed within a couple weeks. The actual lift mechanism, still in a crate, will be positioned soon.

Membership Report for March and April 2023

Celebrating an Irish brew! The famous golden Harp logo!

Guinness is an Irish dry stout that originated in the brewery of Arthur Guinness at St. James's Gate, Dublin, Ireland, in 1759. It is one of the most successful alcohol brands worldwide, brewed in almost 50 countries, and available in over 120.

In 1759, at the age of 34, Arthur Guinness signed a lease for the St. James's Gate Brewery, Dublin. He leased the brewery for 9000 years at an annual rent of £45. The lease became moot when he purchased the site, but is on display. The brewery was only 4 acres in size, disused, and had little brewing equipment. Despite this, Arthur quickly built up a successful trade and by 1769 he had begun to export his beer to England. In the 1770s, he began brewing 'porter', a new type of English beer, invented in London in 1722 by a brewer named Ralph Harwood. Porter was different from ale because it was brewed using roasted barley, giving the beer a dark ruby colour and rich aroma. Arthur's porter was successful and in 1799 he decided to stop brewing ale altogether, and concentrate on porter alone.

Guinness stout is made from water, barley, roast malt extract, hops and brewer's yeast. A portion of the barley is roasted to give Guinness its dark red colour and characteristic taste. It is pasteurized and filtered.

Arthur's business was passed on to his son, Arthur Guinness II, who took over the Brewery. The business was then passed on from father to son for five successive generations; a remarkable brewing dynasty.

By 1900, the brewery was operating unparalleled welfare schemes (housing, sick benefits, insurance) for its 5,000 employees. By 1907, the welfare schemes were costing the brewery one-fifth of the total wages bill.

Before 1939, if a Guinness brewer wished to marry a Catholic, his resignation was requested. According to Thomas Molloy, writing in the Irish Independent, "It had no qualms about selling drink to Catholics but it did everything it could to avoid employing them until the 1960s."

Arguably its biggest change to date, in 1959 Guinness began using nitrogen, which changed the fundamental texture and flavour of the Guinness of the past. Nitrogen bubbles are much smaller than carbon dioxide, giving a creamier and smoother consistency over a sharper and traditional carbon dioxide taste.

The Guinness Storehouse is a tourist attraction at St. James's Gate Brewery in Dublin, Ireland. Since opening in 2000, it has received over 20 million visitors.

The Guinness Book of World Records started out as an idea for a book of facts to solve arguments in pubs. Today, with over 67 years of record-breaking authority and 60,789 active record titles on the database, book sales exceed 150 million and worldwide there are millions of followers on all social media.
