* RCAF Totem Pole Presentation and Re-Dedication Ceremony - September 8, 2012 ****

Dignitaries representing the city, military and First Nations, were on hand at the Barrie Armoury Saturday for the presentation and re-dedication of a historic totem pole.

The Little Totem Pole, as it's called, will be moved to Barrie City Hall.

The restored 12-foot pole is a gift from Zweibrucken, Germany (Barrie's twin city) and was one of two poles the RCAF gave to Zweibrucken as a gift 40 years ago.

The second 30-foot pole is still there at Rosengarten Park, in the centre of the city, surrounded by several maple trees that were donated at the same time.

Zweibrucken was a NATO air base in West Germany, assigned to the RCAF until 1969 and the United States Air Force until it closed in 1991. It's now Zweibrucken Airport.

The money to pay for the restoration was fundraised privately. An RCAF heritage fund in Winnipeg, the Air Force Association and the Sutton Royal Canadian Legion also contributed.

Zweibrucken Mayor Rolf Franzen was on hand Saturday to officially present the pole on behalf of his citizens.
